The Review are a young, energetic, four-piece party covers band based around the rolling hills of Shropshire. They are highly experienced players, capable of working to specific client requirements and most of all they are comfortable bringing people to the dance floor. The boys of The Review have plenty of experience with weddings, parties and corporate events.

The Review endeavour to make your event a success, and as such have invested in superior quality equipment including a 2400 watt HK Audio/Allen & Heath sound system and L.E.D lighting rig; setting them apart from similar bands. The Review use only high quality instruments and amplification from world renowned manufacturers, including Fender, Martin, Trace Elliott and Pearl.

The Review will tailor sets from their varied repertoire to match the feel of your event and to maximise the amount of guests attending the dance floor (what's a party without people having a good time?) With songs from The Beatles, The Rolling Stones, Arctic Monkeys, Kings of Leon and everything in between - there is something for everyone to enjoy.
